Get Connected with the Ultimate Single-Slot Integrated PC Card and Integrated CardBus PC Card

Welcome to the world of convenient and flexible notebook PC networking! The EtherFast 10/100 Integrated PC Card and CardBus PC Card allow you to connect with virtually any Ethernet-based network or Internet connection, including Cable and DSL modems. Share files, printers, and more, all without any media couplers to lose; and the single-slot design is perfect for slim notebooks--freeing up your additional slots for use with other accessories.

Available for both standard 16-bit PCMCIA and high-performance 32-bit CardBus-equipped notebook PCs, the Integrated 10/100 PC Card (with its 32K Buffer), and bus-mastering CardBus PC Card offer fast file transfers and hot-swap capability†. Minimal voltage consumption and an automatic sleep mode help conserve your notebook PC's battery life.

The Integrated 10/100 PC Card and CardBus PC Card also automatically adjust their speed and duplex to optimize data trafficking. Virtually all brand name PCs and major operating systems, including Windows 95, 98, NT, 2000, and Linux* are supported. Convenience and Flexibility--that's what makes the EtherFast 10/100 Integrated PC Cards the ultimate networking solution for your notebook PC.

* Linux and other freeware and open source operating systems are not supported by Linksys technical support. To locate device drivers, which may be included on setup disks, and setup instructions for Linux and other freeware OSes, see the support pages and FAQ files on the Linksys website at www.linksys.com.

Note: Linux does not support PCM200 at this time.

 Only available on Model PCM200

† Depending on operating system used.
